WORST OF WEATHER ENCOUNTERED TODAY BY FAMOUS AIRMAN

ONLY INDIRECT REPORTS OF LINDBERGH SINCE LEAVING HAVANA

Flying through fog and rain along his route from Havana to St. Louis, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was invisible to watchers from the ground after he left the Cuban capital at 2:25 o'clock this morning.

Up to 1:45 o'clock this afternoon, Eastern Standard time, no definite word of his sighting had come through. The opinion prevailed in aviation circles that he was flying very high to avoid the fog and rain and that the first news of him would come with his arrival at St. Louis, which was scheduled for 2 o'clock, Central time.

Sarasota, Florida, reported that an airplane had been heard over the town, flying northward at 6:50 a. m., and some observers thought it might have been the Flying Colonel.

Field Enveloped in Mist.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Fog and mist enveloped Lambert-St. Louis Field this afternoon as a small crowd awaited the arrival of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

An air of uncertainty spread over the field at 2 o'clock, the generally accepted hour of Lindbergh's arrival, passed and no word had been received. Some field officials, however, had estimated his time of arrival at 3 o'clock.

Because of the poor visibility, landing lights at the field were lit at 2:45 p. m.

Members of the official reception committee, headed by Acting Mayor Walter Neun, and others remained under shelter because of the inclement weather. The crowd was estimated at 500.

Believed Over Cairo.

CAIRO, Ill., Feb. 13.—(AP).—The drone of an airplane motor was heard over Cairo at 2:29 p. m. today. The plane was not seen because of fog, but as this city was on the expected route of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, it was believed it might be his.

Plane Heard in Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 13.—(AP).—The chief of police at Talladega, near here, said this afternoon that a plane, flying in a northerly direction, and at a great height, was heard to pass over that place at 1:05 p. m. Central standard time. Because of weather conditions, it was impossible to see the plane and determine whether it was Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in the Spirit of St. Louis.

Major William R. Weaver, commandant of Maxwell field, the local government airport, said that no planes had left the local field today and that no was expected. He said the plane heard over Talledega might have been the Spirit of St. Louis, as weather conditions existing the past 18 hours would have prevented a take off in this section.

Plane Passed Over Florida.

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 13.—(AP)—A radio message received here by Lieut. Justin Lee, communication department, United States Naval Reserve force, said an airplane passed over Sarasota, Fla., at 6:50 . m. today, flying in a northerly direction. The message said the plane was flying above

TEXAN PREDICTS NO TAX CUT WILL BE FORTHCOMING

REPRESENTATIVE GARNER, DEMOCRATIC LEADER, TALKS OF LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Prediction that there would be no tax legislation at this session of congress was made today by Representative Garner of Texas, Democratic leader of the House Ways and Means committee which drafted the $298,000,000 revenue measure now awaiting action by the senate.

The Texan declared that if the tax bill, which Republican Senate leaders are holding up until receipts from the March 15 income tax payments become known, should be brought to the senate floor that the Democrats would initiate a move to attach a tariff rider to the measure.

Garner contended that with the aid of independent Republicans the tariff rider would be approved, and that the House Democrats with the aid of western Republicans could master sufficient strength to pass it.

"It will then go to the White House where," he predicted, "it will receive a veto."

Garner also said that he had observed press statements by Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance Committee that business conditions might not warrant a cut in revenue rates. Such statements, he added, do not indicate that Republicans are preparing to pass the tax bill.

"No one as yet has challenged my statement that the tax bill is being held up deliberately because the Democratic amendment abolishing affiliate dtax returns by corporations will increase the total taxes of large corporations by about $50,000,000," Garner continued. "No one either has challenged my statement that this amendment will increase the taxes of corporations in which Secretary Mellon personally is interested by $1,000,000 if not considerably more."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Forces working to defeat the purposes of the Walsh public utility resolution were charged today by Judson King of the National Popular Government League, with constituting the greatest lobby since the "Anti-Railroad-Rate-Regulation lobby of Roosevelt's day, summoned to defeat the Hepburn bill."

In a pamphlet, "Who's Who in Super-Power Lobby in Washington and Out," King declared that those who opposed the Walsh resolution in committee hearings "acted chiefly but not wholly under the direction of the joint committee of National Utility Associations of New York and Washington."

A partial survey, he said, showed that "141 political jobs of 27 varieties, from a Southern Democratic city boss to the treasurer of the Republican National committee, have been, or are, held by the 274 utility attorneys whose names are appended to the memorandum against the Walsh resolution." Chairman Cortelyou of the Joint committee, feared a "political investigation," King charged.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(AP).—The declaration of President Coolidge in his recent address at the semi-annual business meeting that his administration had effected "constructive economy" in governmental expenditures was disputed in the House today by Representative Byrns of Tennessee, ranking Democrat on the appropriations committee.

He said it was "amout time the people were becoming aroused to the fact that despite the persistent and misleading propaganda of the past years there has been no reduction of governmental expenditures."

"On the contrary," he said, "there has been a heavy increase which cannot be justified on the plea that it was 'constructive economy.'"

Newton Bill Approved.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(AP).—The Newton bill to permit the formation of buying pools in an effort to surmount the monopolistic barriers surrounding the foreign rubber, sisal and optash market was approved today by the House judiciary committee.

INSANE MURDERER ESCAPES; GUARDS CLUBBED TO DEATH

SEVERAL INMATES LIBERATED BY MANIAC ARE LATER SUBDUED

BRIDGEWATER, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Led by an insane murderer, liberated inmates of the Bridewater state farm overpowered and killed two guards early today and were subdued after a force of more than 60 guards, state police and city police from Brockton had invaded the institution.

The slain men were Eugene Amlaw, night supervisor of guards, and Wilfred Gerroir, a guard.

Gerroir met death at the hands of the murderer-ring leader. As he came upon the maniac in the act of scaling a transom from his cell. The slayer strangled the guard to death with his bare hands, ripped the guard's keys from his uniform and then freed four other dangerous prisoners.

The five set upon Amlaw, who was making his rounds, and slew him. Other guards who were in the night relief room barricaded themselves and sent out calls for help.

A preliminary investigation showed that the first man to escape had cut up his bed clothing and fashioned it into a rope and had obtained from some undetermined source a hook to which he attached his improvised ladder and swung it over the transom.

He pulled himself over and had just cleared the transom when Gerroir appeared. Gerroir was strangled to death in an unequal test of strength with the maniac.

The latter at once proceeded to liberate the other four and the five dismantled an iron cot in one of the cells. With a leg from this they waylaid Amlaw and clubbed him to death.

All five then hid in the corridor office of the supervisor apparently in the hope that as the other guards ran out they would be able to fell them in single file. Sensing the plan, the guards telephone for help before attempting a sortie.

When finally assure that the big institution was surrounded by other officers, the prison guards themselves rushed the five convicts and in a hand-to-hand battle and overpowered them.

Names of the prisoners involved were not immediately made public at the institution.

MANY LIVES LOST AND DAMAGE HEAVY SHIPPING CIRCLES

BELIEVED FIFTY LIVES LOST IN SCANDINAVIAN AND ENGLISH WATERS

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(AP).—A crippled shipping limped into port today, as the toll of a gale which swept Western Europe and the North Atlantic over the week end was counted. It was feared that the deaths might mount to fifty. The loss of property was heavy.

Twenty-five lives are known to have been lost in Scandinavia and nine in Great Britain. Accidents to shipping were just becoming known, although the gale spent itself early Sunday.

After the dredge vessel Grinkel sank in the Mersey river six of the crew were missing and they were listed among the casualties today.

Houses were blown down, roofs carried away and a torrential rainfall which accompanied the hurricane caused fresh floods in the British Isles. The wind blew at an average of 70 miles an hour at Liverpool with occasional gusts reaching 104 miles on the opposite side of England at Tynemouth, it was only a gentle two-mile breeze.

Radio reports told of a thrilling struggle between the tanker Varand and the sea on the ship's maiden trip from New Orleans to London. For 12 days the Varand has been in tow of the Dutch tug Zwarte See because of serious damage to its rudder post and propeller. The ship also had sprung a leak. Towing the tanker through the heavy seas became so difficult that another Dutch tug, the Seine, went to the assistance. The hurricane completely disabled the Seine, carrying away the compass, rails, ventilators and wrecking the wireless apparatus.

The liner Muenchen left her course to assist the crippled tug and two other Dutch tugs, which had previously gone to the assistance of the liner Burgerdijk also came to the aid of the Seine, which returned to Cobh under convoy. The Varand, according to the latest advices was south of Ireland and still in tow.

Along the Scandinavian coast shipping was demoralized and the sea pounded with such force that millions of dead fish were washed ashore. Scientists attributed the death of the fish to sulphurated hydrogen, which came to the surface from the ocean bottom when disturbed by the force of the gale. A fish famine is threatened because housewives refuse to buy the fish, fearing they are poisoned.

Part of Crew of Naval Tug Missing

BOSTON, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Three members of the crew of the naval tug, Mohave, were missing today after the craft had piled up on the ragged rocks of Harding Ledge, two miles east of Point Allerton in a moonlit sea last night.

Twenty-three other sailors, including Chief Boatswain Mate Patrick F. Powers, commander of the tug, were safe, Six were near exhaustion after a long row to Nantucket in an open dinghy that had only one pair of oars. The men had been ordered out in search of the three who were believed to have lost their lives, and failing to find them, struck out for the shore.

The Mohave's S. O. S. halted broadcasting and sent a flotilla steaming to her assistance. The destroyer Maury, found the tug listing badly with a serious hole in her bow, while the Coast Guard boat 242 was successful in removing all of the survivors from their water-filled ship. Early reports had placed the victims as high as six.

The missing men were W. J. Enos, C. H. T. Reid, and L. D. Liles. Naval officers who spent a large part of the night and early morning sweeping the seas with powerful searchlights, expressed little hope that an yof them could be saved.

Former Head of Mexican Government Says Calles Bitterly Anti-American

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—(AP).—Testimony that the alleged anti-American attitude of President Calles had forced him into political exile here, was given yesterday by Adolfo De La Huerta, former provisional president of the southern republic, when he took the stand in his own defense against a charge of conspiring to violate American neutrality laws.

The former Mexican official and four associates, who are charged with attempting to ship from the United States guns and ammunition to the revolting Yaqui Indians of Sonora rested their defense after De La Huerta had testified.

De La Huerta recounted that he and Calles had been personal friends until the chief executive turned anti-American.

"Things reached such a state that they became intolerable to me because of my ideals of friendship for the United States and I bitterly opposed the policy and was forced to leave the country to save my life," he testified.

De La Huerta admitted that he and his personal representative, Louis Gayou, one of the defendants, purchased 20 rifles and a quantity of ammunition for the sole purpose of taking over police duty in Nogales, Sonora, if the rebelling Yaquis succeeded in capturing the town. He emphatically denied that he had attempted to furnish Yaqui Indians with arms and ammunition. The former Mexican executive told of scores of conversations with United States government officials in which he discussed Mexican border conditions with them.

Department of Justice officials testified that De La Huerta and Gayou had asked if it would be illegal to ship arms from one state to another in this country and had been assured it was not. Lucien C. Wheeler, formerly agent in charge of the Department of Justice in Los Angeles testified that De La Huerta had talked freely to him regarding Mexican affairs. Other witnesses said the arms shipped to Nogales, Ariz., were plainly marked as such and that efforts were being made to obtain a permit to take the small arms shipment across the border when the arrests were made.

On tial with D La Huerta and Gayou are Alfonso G. Morentin, Francisco Farrez and Enrique Beraceda.

Additional Wires.

Four crews of men of the Bell Telephone Company, were working in the Corsicana district last week stringing additional wires to be used in taking care of the additional telegraph and telephone business which the National Democratic convention in Houston will create.

UNWISE AND UNPATRIOTIC TO DEPART FROM WASHINGTON PRECEDENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(AP).—In the opinion of the Senate, American presidents should retire from office "after their second term."

Fifty-six members of the Senate so believe, and, over the opposing votes of 26 others, they have put the Senate on record to that effect by adopting the resolution of Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, declaring it would be unwise and unpatriotic for executives to depart from "the precedent established by Washington and other presidents."

Adopted after four days of debate that centered largely on its bearing upon President Coolidge, the resolution was trimmed of its paragraph commending "the observance of this precedent by the president." It was eliminated by Senator LaFollette when Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, had moved to have it stricken out.

LaFollette said he had added the paragraph "in all sincerity because I thought President Coolidge by his statements had definitely eliminated himself from the race and was observng this tradition." He said it was apparent, however, that friends of Mr. Coolidge were preparing to draft him, and that "the President has not foreclosed his renomination."

Senator Foss was not so successful in another attempt to reword the resolution so that it definitely excluded President Coolidge from its meaning. His proposal to have it apply to second "elective" terms was defeated 73 to 5, drawing support only from Foss and Willis of Ohio, Bingham and McLean of Connecticut, and Waterman of Colorado, Republicans.

The Foss paragraph was opposed by administration Senators who said it would reflect upon Mr. Coolidge who, they argued, might still accept the nomination in good faith, while Democrats said the paragraph did not accept in good faith the President's statement that he did not choose to run.

Two announced candidates for the Republican nomination, Senators Watson of Indiana and Willis of Ohio, voted against the resolution.

BLIZZARD SWEEPS DOWN UPON DENVER SUNDAY AFTERNOON

TEXAS POINTS REPORT RAIN AS HAVING TURNED TO SNOW MONDAY

DENVER, Feb. 13. (AP).—Coming from the northwest with a suddenness which caught this city unprepared, a blizzard swept Denver and vicinity Sunday afternoon and night.

Accidents were numerous but no deaths were reported.

Extreme cold was reported at Cheyenne, Wyo., with only a trace of snow, while Puebla, Colo., on

CURB THE MILITARY.

"I am loath to take action in Admiral Plunkett's case," says Mr. Coolidge in effect, "because my action might be construed as an interference with free speech."

Where in the name of the Constitution and common sense did the idea originate that admirals of the navy or any other uniformed servants of the civil populace are at full liberty to run up and down the land heralding war with this country or that, discussing international politics from soap boxes and generally conducting themselves like spread-eagle orators in the loose? For that reason does a statesman like Mr. Coolidge lend acquiescence in such a perposterous doctrine?

The day that doctrine is successfully imposed upon us, that day this democracy begins to die. For it there is anything plain in our organic law, the story of its making, and our history since, it is the founders intended the absolute subordination of the military t othe civil government. It created secretaries through whom the services might speak to the commander-in-chief, and it created a congress with committees to which services could be called to give information whenever necessary. No law, anywhere, permits them a voice in affairs of state, or in any other public concern than the conduct of a service of national security.

In more than one foreign navy, Admiral Plunkett would be seeking a civil job suited to a gentleman of his years and talents. The time is ripe, here, to dismiss outright those officers who break the faith which should have been planted in them the day they joined the service; or the several examples now at large should be so disciplined that no successor will dream of committing the same blunder.

If free speech in matters of international policy and domestic politics is what the admiral wants, and what the president wants him to have, the president can arrange to return him to civil life. His place is not the navy, or the army, unless the American people are ready to submit at last to rule by the military, as graphically illustrated in those Central American banana republics where a new regime takes charge whenever a rebel can pick up enough troops to take the palace.

Ours is a civil democracy. It is not a government by the military, the stupidest, most costly, least civilized of all known forms of organized society. For it is an axiom established wherever tried, that when the military becomes master liberty dies.

ART, ATHLETICS AND JAIL.

Another pleasant uplift plan has flattened out. Some one had the cheerful idea of elevating the morals of prisoners by subjecting them to the aesthetic influence of great works of art. Accordingly, an exhibition of paintings of high artistic quality was arranged for a penitentiary. The show was thrown open in the afternoon, so that the benign leffect of seeing beautiful things might get in its stimulating, potent and subtle effect on the inmates.

Unfortunately, an athletic event for the prisoners was scheduled for that same afternoon, and art was the loser. Fifty saw the picture and 1,600 saw the game.

The conclusion to be drawn from this experiment is that the athletic event was better managed than the art exhibit. The exhibit had no chance against the game out in the prison yard. Unless the publicity man for the show could have thought up a stunt more potent and subtle than the call of sport, his experiment was doomed from the moment its date clashed with that of the game.

Another conclusion that should not be drawn, but will be drawn by those long on art and short on sport, is that the reason the 1,600 were in the penitentiary was because they preferred sport to art. Such a deduction would be decidedly unfair to those hosts of baseball fans, football enthusiasts and business men not too tired to play golf.

The probability is many of both prison groups would not be in prison had they had more art and athletics before they entered upon careers of crime. The fifty were doubtlessly as starved for art as the 1,600 for sport.

THOSE WHO SNEAK IN.

Immigration authorities recently estimated that hundreds of thousands of aliens are illegally in the United States due to the success of smuggling operations across Canadian and Mexican borders and along the country's coastlines.

Lacking details, the public naturally supposed a large majority of the smuggled foreigners are undesirables and that they are arriving at the rate of many thousands a year. It was an alarming picture, calculated to arouse wide public anxiety.

A timely word or reassurance now comes from the assistant secretary of labor in charge of immigration. He believes that all the big rings for smuggling aliens up to the country have been broken up and that a large percentage of those who get into the United States illegally are eventually deported.

Realizing the difficulty of abolishing this form of smuggling and the even greater difficulty of finding smuggled aliens once they are in the United States, the public may think the assistant secretary of labor a little optimistic, but this suspicion does not rob his words of all their assurance.

When the immigration head goes on to say that most smuggled aliens are potentially desirable citizens, he has statistics to back him up. There is no accurate means of knowing how many get in but enough are taken into custody to give some idea of the smuggled types.

It is disappointing to know that the country's elaborate system of immigration restriction is decidedly full of holes, but there is no little satisfaction in the knowledge that those who find the holes are neither social or political enemies of the country.

If they speak of her efficiency, she remembers sadly that she has taught for seven years without getting a husband.

Perseverance is merely keeping on doing what you decided to do even after you decide that maybe you shouldn't.

Many divorces are caused by two people who are in love with themsedves getting married.

Nationalism is a fine thing for any country that needs an alibi for grabbing.

ROCKEFELLER IS WITNESS SATURDAY IN OIL LAND CASE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(AP).—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., whose family name is synonymous with the development of the oil industry, told the Senate Teapot Dome committee today that he could throw no light on the disposition of the elusive Liberty bonds of the Continental Trading Company of Canada.

Appearing in a committee room choked with spectators, the son of the famous oil magnate expressed a desire that the facts about the deal and the "national scandal" growing out of it, should be brought to light so that the reputation of the oil business might be cleared, but he could not answer the vital question the committee propounded.

Rockefeller declared himself to be "bitterly disappointed" that Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana had risked a jail sentence to withhold testimony before the committee, but at the same time he expressed the utmost confidence in Stewart's integrity.

"I totally disagree with the position he has taken," Rockefeller said of Stewart, but he informed the committee that in conferences with the chairman of the Indiana board he had not discussed the matter, except to receive Stewart's assurance that neither himself nor his company had profited from the Continental deal.

Stewart was among those who guaranteed the contract of the Continental when that company bought oil for $1.50 a barrel and resold it to Stewart's and other companies for $1.75.

It is the Government's contention that $233,000 worth of the profits of the Continental went to Albert B. Fall after the lease of Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair.

Growing Children

sometimes require a tonic as do their elders★

GIVE your child the right chance to develop, and you will not regret it in later years.

Many children become undernourished due to lack of appetite. Keep the appetite keen. Food nourishes the body and makes it grow.

Also watch Nature's warning for changes in the system. Skin troubles—pimples, boils and that sallow complexion — all foretell a body weakness.

In such cases, S.S.S. is the proper tonic. It improves the appetite; helps Nature build rich, red blood cells—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

In building rich, red blood cells, S.S.S. improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping children and their elders regain strength and vitality.

Chilren like S.S.S. It is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

★ The physical welfare of the child is being given more attention by school authorities. Failure to keep up with class work and absence from school is probably due to a nervousness and rundown condition that may be largely attributed to a deficiency in red blood cells.

JURY QUICKLY FINDS KIDNAPPER-SLAYER SANE AFTER HEARING

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—(AP).—William Edward Hickman is sane and therefore accountable to the law for the kidnapping, murder and mutilation of little Marian Parker.

Such is the decision of the jury which yesterday required only 36 minutes of deliberation to reach its conclusion. Whether the 19-year-old youth dies on the gallows or goes to the penitentiary for the rest of his life rests with Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco, who will determine his punishment and pronounce sentence tomorrow.

Judge Trabucco's sole indication of what his final decision might be carried little comfort for the kidnapper and slayer. In a cryptic statement at the close of the sanity trial, Judge Trabucco said:

Will Get Limit.

"I cannot state in advance just what my sentence will be—but you can rest assured that this defendant will be given all the law allows."

The veteran jurist seemed to have no doubt as to the route over which he was to guide the case in its final stages. Scarcely had the jury of eight men and four women declared Hickman sane than the judge attempted to obtain a stipulation of prosecution and defense permitting him to use the transcript of the trial in fixing the degree of guilt.

Jerome Walsh, young defense attorney, interposed some objection and no ruling was made. Later Walsh said he had not understood the question and probably would agree to the request. Should he refuse to enter into the stipulation legal authorities pointed out, it would be necessary either for Judge Trabucco to rule on this point of the new law, declaring further testimony unnecessary. Otherwise the prosecution would be forced to call witnesses to aid the court in deciding the extent of punishment.

Hickman is Cool.

While the court and the attorneys were feeling their way through the labyrinth of the new and untested law governing insanity pleas in criminal cases, Hickman was taking the matter cooly. As the jury delivered its verdict he sat bolt upright in his chair, showing no emotion. As he was led from the courtroom he only cast a disdainful look at the hundreds who were staring at him. And while Judge Trabucco spoke the words which left little hope for him, Hickman was making "wise cracks" on the way to his cell.

Immediately after the verdict, when Hickman had returned to his cell with the remark that "the die is cast and the State wins by a neck," jail authorities ordered a 24-hour a day guard placed over him.

Mother is Stunned.

His mother, Mrs. Eva Hickman of Kansas City, whose alleged mental ills had been paraded, heard the result in the office of his attorneys. Overcome, she wandered out into the street and some time afterward was found by Hickman's brother, Alfred, standing on a street corner that rang with the shouts of newsboys.

In the Parker home, news of the verdict was received almost listlessly. The mother of the 12-year old girl victim received it in silence.

"I'm satisfied—satisfied and wanting only to forget," said her father, Perry M. Parker.

Hickman's attorneys announced an appeal would be taken on the legality of the entire proceedings and the constitutionality of the new California law under which the plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity" was entered and received.

Will Ask New Trial.

In addition to the notice of appeal which they intend to enter tomorrow, defense attorneys said they would file a motion for a new trial.

District Attorney Keyes said he would fight every attempt to delay the case but admitted that if Hickman were sentenced to be hanged, court action probably would delay the execution for several months.

The prosecution also said it was probable that the prosecution of Hickman on a second murder charge—the killing of C. Ivy Thoms, druggist, during an attempted holdup—would not be pressed until the present case had been settled in the higher courts. Hickman's attorneys said they anticipated that the Thoms trial would be delayed, especially if Hickman's accomplice in the hold up, Welby Hunt, pleaded guilty and placed himself on the mercy of the court.

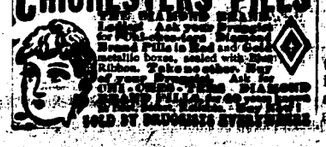

Hickman Films Barred.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 10.—(AP).—The Oklahoma Supreme Court today frowned upon the showing of motion pictures of William Edward Hickman, convicted slayer of little Marian Parker in Los Angeles. The court refused to grant a writ of prohibition against District Judge Orel Busby of Pontotoc county, who had issued an injunction against the showing of the pictures at an Ada theatre.

The injunction was obtained by the Ada Parent-Teachers' Association and the mayor.

The pictures were purported to show the pursuit and capture of Hickman and scenes in the prison cell.

SMALL DEFIES U. S. SENATE BY NAMING SMITH ONCE MORE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP).—Frank L. Smith, of Dwight, Ill., was United States Senator-designate today, a title under which he expects to be admitted to the senate chamber from which he was recently barred.

The former chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission handed his resignation as United States senator-elect to Governor Len Small last night, and immediately was appointed by the Governor to fill the vacancy. At the same time Governor Small called a special primary, and a special general election to allow voters of Illinois to elect Smith again, if they so choose to do.

Both special elections will be held on the same day as the regular primary in April and the General election in November.

The senate refused to seat the former Illinois official because of his acceptance of campaign funds from Samuel Insull, public utility magnate, and others.

Credentials Not Expected.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP).—Friends heres of Frank L. Smith believe he will not present to the Senate his new credentials as republican senator-designate of Illinois. They believe he will prefer to retain his present status and leave to settlement by the voters in the April and November elections the issue of his rejection by the senate.

Opponents of Smith, those who led the right that barred him from membership and declared his seat vacant, were likewise certain that he would be again denied entrance if he should try to gain his seat.

Smith's re-election would present the issue in a new light; it then would be a contest between the senate and the voters of Illinois. Such contests have arisen before and the record shows that in the long run the voters are victorious. That was the decision in the most recent case, involving Victor L. Berger, Wisconsin socialist representative, who was twice denied a house seat after the world war but was finally accepted after his district had re-elected him by a large majority.

The senate already had denied Smith the oath of office as senator-designate, voting 48 to 33 against him when he appeared with credentials given him by Governor Small after his election in 1926 as appointee to fill out the term of the late Senator McKinley. When the present session began Smith again sought his seat but was denied the oath, 50 to 32, and when he declined to submit himself to the jurisdiction of the Reed slush fund committee for hearing, the senate declared his seat vacant by a 61 to 23 vote.

SEARCH FOR TWO MISSING OFFICERS EXTENDED FRIDAY

KOKOMO, Ind., Feb. 10.—(AP).—After a search of two stone quarries near here, Sheriff Charles M. Johnson returned to LaFayette today without having uncovered any trace of his two deputy sheriffs who disappeared early Tuesday while transporting two prisoners by automobile from LaFayette to the Pendleton, Ind., reformatory. The prisoners are also missing.

Sheriff Johnson came here after receiving a letter bearing a Frankfort, Ind., date which purported to come from Samuel Baxter and John Burns, the missing prisoners. It stated that the sheriff would never capture them but that if he wanted to find the deputies heir bodies would be found in a Kokomo stone quarry.

After his search he said he was convinced the letter had been written by a crank.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 10. (AP)—Search for Deputy Sheriffs John P. Grove and Wallace McClure, who disappeared last Tuesday while taking two prisoners to the State Reformatory at Pendleton, 60 miles distant, was extended to Illinois today after word came from Danville, Ill., that the two prisoners, each under 20 years of age, had been seen near there.

According to word from Danville police, the two prisoners, Samuel Baxter and John Burns, both under 5 to 25 year sentences for robbery, were at the home of Burns' uncle at Kingston, Ill., near Danville Tuesday morning, several hours after they left here in the custody of the two deputy sheriffs. Otto W. Smith, Burns' uncle, told Danville police the two, driving an automobile belonging to the deputies, stayed at the Smith home for a short time until asked to leave.

Burns said he did not know they were being hunted until yesterday.

Additional details of American Legion members, county and State police and volunteers were sent out today to search for the missing deputies, one 55 years of age and the other 57. Officials believe the deputies were either slain and their bodies hidden or that they were rendered helpless and left in some out of the way place.

OUSTER SUIT FILED WITH HEARING SET FOR FEBRUARY 20

A suit seeking to remove L. J. Woods, county attorney of Navarro county, was filed in the district clerk's office Friday at noon in a lengthy petition of thirty-four pages. The case is styled State of Texas on the relation of T. H. Benton, et al, vs. L. J. Woods, county attorney. The right to file the above petition was allowed in an order issued and ordered filed by Hawkins Scarborough, judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District Court.

The order of the court is returnable Feb. 20 when a hearing is scheduled to be heard on the proceedings. The issuance of the citations on this civil suit was ordered by the court.

The petition was signed by T. H. Benton and is joined by the other eleven members of the grand jury and by Claud Pollard, attorney general of Texas. The members of the grand jury are T. H. Benton, foreman; R. D. Fleming, both of Corsicana; T. B. Blount, Rice; G. G. Owen, Emhouse; A. Frank Mitchell, Frost; J. Wesley Harris, Blooming Grove; Earl McDaniel, Richland; S. Z. Burke, Corsicana; T. J. Worthington, Zion's Rest; F. M. Copeland, Pursley; N. C. Goodman, Corsicana; W. A. Lang, Corsicana.

The petition seeks for the temporary suspension of Mr. Woods from office and on trial to be ousted from office.

Mr. Woods was recently indicted on several charges by the grand jury after an investigation of his office. He answered the charges by declaring he was not guilty of any of them and announced himself a candidate for re-election in the approaching Democratic primaries.

After the grand jury's written report was made, a damage suit styled L. J. Woods vs. T. J. Worthington et al, seeking $50,000 damages was filed by Mr. Woods. The suit was against all members of the grand jury.

In today's case the State is represented by Claud Pollard, attorney general of Texas, Davis, Jester & Tarver and Beauford H. Jester. It is presumed that Mr. Woods will be represented by the attorneys who represent him in the damage suit against the grand jury, J. S. Simpkins, J. S. Callicut and Richard and A. P. Mays.

FORMER RESIDENT OF NAVARRO COUNTY DIES CORPUS CHRISTI

William Edward Patterson, aged 54 years, resident of Navarro county for 30 years, died at the emergency hospital in Corpus Christi Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and the remains reached Corsicana at an early hour Friday morning. The funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon at the Baptist church at Pursley and interment was made in the Pursley cemetery. The I. O. O. F. Lodge had charge of the services at the grave. He was a member of the Kerens I. O. O. F. Lodge.

Surviving are his wife, four children, Burt S. Patterson, Corpus Christi; W. B. Patterson, Waco; Mrs. Laura Waddell, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Agnes Stoffregen, Corpus Christi.

Fred White Again Secretary Merchants

At a meeting of the executive board of Retail Merchants Association held Friday morning Fred White was re-elected secretary for the ensuing year. The report of the secretary for the past year was read and adopted. The report was a commendable one and the members of the executive board were well pleased with it. They are looking forward to another progressive year for the Association.

Fred White starts on his fourth term as secretary of the Association, which is evidence of the satisfaction rendered.

YOUNG CORSICANA WOMAN DIED NOON THURSDAY AT HOME

Miss Willie Harris, aged 25 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harris, died at 605 East Seventh avenue Thursday at noon following a lingering illness, and the remains were interred in the Zion's Rest cemetery Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Surviving are her parents and several brothers and sisters.

Promotion Is Due For Damon Woods

Hon. J. H. Woods received a telegram from Congressman Luther A. Johnson Friday in which it was stated that Damon Woods' promtion had been sent to the senate for confirmation.

Damon Woods has been in the diplomatic service for a number of years and for some time has been an attache at the American embassy at Paris, France, under Ambassador Myron T. Herrick.

Confirmation by the senate means another step upward in Mr. Woods' chosen profession, the diplomatic service.

MONTANA DEMOCRAT TURNS GUNS SHARPLY ON ADMINISTRATION

CLEVELAND, Feb. 11.—(AP).—Training vitriolic guns upon the Nicaraguan policy of the Washington Government, Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, declared here today that recent American activities in the little republic have constituted "a war waged privately by Calvin Coolidge in the defiance of the Constitution, without the consent of Congress or the approval of the American people."

Nicaragua, he asserted in an address before the City Club of Cleveland, has been reduced from "a sovereign state" to a "Wall Street protectorate."

Moreover, the Montanan charged the Coolidge administration with having "sacrificed at least 700 lives" in Nicaragua, "Deviated from the policy of economy, squandered countless thousands of our public treasury, and cost our country the good will of all South and Central America and permitted certain Wall Street bankers to finally fasten their financial tenacles upon the unfortunate Nicaraguan Nation and suck it dry."

Calls Acts Disgraceful.

"We have dealt harshly enough with Haiti, San Domingo and other Caribbean republics," he continued, "but our treatment of Nicaragua is the most disgraceful chapter of our whole course of 'dollar diplomacy' and every real American who knows the whole ghastly history of this crime must hang his head in shame."

He declared that "if the American people, hopeless, apathetic, duped by the systematic propaganda of the State Department, had not lost every memory of true American tradition, they would protest so loudly that this administration would stop this unjustifiable war and the killing of innocent men, women and children. When the history of out times is written truthfully, this administration will be called to account for its unwarranted conduct, which has been actuated solely for the benefit of a very few Wall Street banking firms, no matter how much they may seek to hide behind a paper canal."

Scores President's Speech.

Using such terms as "sophomoric utterances," and "pious platitudes," Senator Wheeler launched upon a criticism of President Coolidge's recent speech before the Pan-American conference at Havana. Mr. Coolidge's reference to the Golden Rule, in particular, aroused the Montanan's displeasure. He declared it "the Golden Rule of Wall Street bankers," and asserted that Mr. Coolidge "when he implied that for the past twenty years the United States in its dealing with the Caribbean countries had followed this precept," had "revealed anew his lack of understanding of the facts surrounding our dealings with these countries."

And even as Mr. Coolidge was delivering his address, the Senator said, the Havana newsboys were "selling extras telling about American bombing planes scattering death and terror over defenseless Nicaraguan villages."

Story of Greed and Intrigue.

Swinging into an extensive review of Nicaraguan history, Mr. Wheeler said that the years had unfolded in that country "a long, sordid story of greed, intrigue, treachery and unrestrained violence."

He charged that United States Consuls have encouraged and aided revolutions "to further the financial interests of certain Wall Street banks;" that the Government itself had acted as a "debt collector" and "bond broker." He said, too, that "influential officials in the State Department" after assisting in certain "deals" had on "at least two occasions" resigned and found employment "with the bankers they benefitted." Senator Wheeler mentioned Lawrence Dennis, former charge d'affaires in Nicaragua.

American banking firms, he said, had "looted" Nicaragua's public funds, "instigated revolution after revolution" and "exploited the unhappy Nicaraguans in much the same manner that Imperial Rome ruled its conquered provinces." He named these firms as J. and W. Seligman and Company and Brown Brothers.

Marines Tools of Financiers.

Since 1909 when American forces were first landed in Nicaragua, Mr. Wheeler said, the Marines have been used for the advantage of American financial houses. He charged they had been employed to keep in office those Nicaraguan officials who favored the American interests, but that on one occasion when a president inimical to the American banking houses had been put in office, the Marines were withdrawn, inviting a revolution which quickly followed. The Montana Senator brought his address to a conclusion with a plea that America should not "substitute for 'righteousness exalteth a nation' any maxim that sounds remotely like 'the world be damned.'"

"The world simply does not intend to be damned by any imperial individual or any imperial nation," he asserted. "That kind of Junkerism, however, camouflaged to suit our times, will win us neither honorable nor lasting victories. The universe in which we are living is a moral universe. In the end, right not might; justice, not injustice; truth, not lie, prevails."

Corporation Court.

Four charges of intoxication, one for running over a stop signal, nine for gaming, one for reckless driving and one for vagrancy and theft made up the docket for the Corporation court Monday morning.

Police officials stated they are still receiving numerous calls from the residence section because of chickens being allowed to run at large. The officials stated that there is an ordinance against loose fowls and the law will be rigidly enforced.

WEAK, NERVOUS

Georgia Lady Could Not Sleep Nights, But After Taking Cardui She Was "Like a Different Person."

Comer, Ga.—Mrs. C. H. Smith, of this place, related the following interesting experience:

"I was weak and nervous and run down. I couldn't sleep at night. I felt tired and not in condition to do my work. I had Cardui recommended to me, but always thought I could out-do most sickness, but this was one time I needed help. I was so weak I could hardly lift my hand.

"I can't express how bad I felt.

"I know I improved after taking Cardui. I was like a different person. I was built up and was stronger and better than in a long time.

"I have a young daughter who had the 'flu,' and after she got up she would once in a while have such severe cramping spells, just suffer terribly. I knew there was a weakness and, hoping Cardui would reach this trouble, I had her take it, and the first bottle helped her so much she was able to leave it off and does not have this trouble now."

Cardui has been in use for more than 50 years.

Purely vegetable, mild, harmless.

What Are You Raising Cotton For?

Fun or profit? Exercise or gain? As a speculation or an investment of time and labor?

Can you produce it for less than 17 cents a pound—the price now offered for middling cotton delivered at New Orleans next October?

Weevils and Root Rot

Weevils and root rot last year reduced the average acre yield in Texas to 126 pounds. At 17 cents a pound that would mean only $20.42 an acre. The cost of breaking, planting, cultivating, picking and ginning, with interest on investment and wear and tear upon equipment, will be more than that.

Weevils and root rot are still with us, and under similar weather conditions will do similar damage in 1928.

There Is A Way of Profit

A crop rotation system of cotton, corn and oats on land at the Temple Experiment Station for a period of six years, brought an average profit of $15.96 an acre. Land at the same place planted every year in cotton during the same six years brought an average profit of only $7.33 an acre. A four-year rotation including cow peas brought even larger returns by almost entirely preventing loss by root rot.

Lindbergh Hops Off Before Dawn

His good will flight competed, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off from Columbia flying field at 3:26 a. m. this morning for his home port of St. Louis, a flight of some 1,200 miles. Night still hung over the waters of the Straits of Florida as Lindbergh headed over them on the only water jump of his flight to Key West, Fla.

As the Spirit of St. Louis left the dimly lighted field only the steady throb of its motor traced its course to the open sea. From Key West Lindbergh's route led along the Gulf of Mexico to a point south of St. Louis from there it turned north to that city.

The plane was loaded with 225 gallons of gasoline, half its capacity. It was estimated that this would carry Lindbergh for twenty hours. The flight, the fourth longest in his career, was expected to end at Lambert field, St. Louis soon after two o'clock this afternoon. The three flights which have exceeded the present one in distance were New York to Paris, 3,600 miles; Washington to Mexico City, 2,200 miles and San Diego to St. Louis, 1,550 miles.

Cheers rose from the spectators on the field as the flyer swept over them, leaving behind a message of good will and enshrined in their hearts. Miniature flags of thirteen countries visited on his tour painted on the fuselage of the Spirit of St. Louis attested the affection of Latin America for "We." These represented Mexico, Guatemala, British Honduras, Nicaragua, Honduras, Salvador, Costa Rica, Panama, Colombia, Venezuela, the Dominican Republic, Haiti and Cuba. Lindbergh also made stops at two United States possessions, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Government Storm Warnings Ordered

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(AP).—The Weather Bureau today ordered storm warnings displayed at 10:30 a. m., from Hatteras to Jacksonville, and from Pensacola to Cedar Keys on the West Gulf coast.

The Bureau's order read:

"Advisory southeast storm warning ordered 10:30, Hatteras to Jacksonville, and hoist southeast storm warnings and lower at sunset, Pensacola to Cedar Keys. Disturbance south of Louisiana coast moving northeastward will cause strong southeast winds this afternoon shifting to fresh west tonight Pensacola to Cedar Keys. Between Hatteras and Jacksonville fresh east winds will increase this afternoon and shift to southeast and south tonight and to west on Tuesday.

SUMARIAN RULER WORE ORNAMENTS GOLD AND JEWELS

PHILADELPHIA. Feb. 13.—(AP)—Queen Srub-ad, Sumarian ruler of approximately 5,000 years ago, wore golden garters, earrings, a wig surmounted by a golden ornament resembling a large Spanish comb, a heavily beaded cloak and carried her rouge in vanity cases of the period—cockleshells.

Discovery of the queen's body in a tomb near that of her king was announced yesterday in a report from Leonard Woolley, director of the joint expedition of the museum of the University of Pennsylvania and the British museum in Ur of the Chaldees. Mr. Woolley said the treasures found in the tomb were the richest ever unearthed in Ur.

The tomb of the queen was found abutting the King's burial vault, which had been robbed of its treasures, and in the center was a burial pit containing the bodies of more than 50 men and women, the warders of the tomb.

A sloping ramp led down into the pit, the report stated, and on the slope lay the bodies of six soldiers of the guard, their crushed skulls encased in copper helmets and their spears shouldered. They had been killed in their place to remain as sentinels of the dead.

"The rest of the grave area was a shambles," Mr. Wooley said, "for in the narrow space were strewn 50 bodies of those sacrificed to the spirit of the dead. Along one side were men, their daggers on their hips; against the foot of the tomb lay the chief ladies of the harem, eleven of them wearing what must have been full court regalia, consisting of elaborate headdress of gold ribbon, wheaths of gold mulberry leaves hung from strings of Lapis Lazuli and carnelian beads, silver pins with lapis heads and great gold earrings.

'Above the hair of each woman was a silver plam with long points ending in inlaid rosettes of gold, shell and lapis, and beside each lay cockelshells containing face paint and little alabaster unguent vases.

"At the head and feet of the dead queen were crouched the bodies of her attendants. Her headdress, worn originally over a great wig, was a marvellous sight. Coil after coil of gold ribbon surrounded the hair; above these and across the forehead ran a frontlet of lapis and carnelian beads, from which hung heavy rings of gold. Higher up was a wreath of gold mulberry leaves, then another wreath with large flowers whose petals were inlaid with lapis and white shell.

"The queen wore a tight fitting necklace and gold garters around her knees. Over the upper part of the body was a cloak entirely covered with beadwork in vertical rows and horizontal groups and fringed with dangling gold rings. The cloak was fastened to the right shoulder with three gold and lapis pins, to each of which was fastened cylinder seal. On one of the seals was inscribed the queen's name."

Those who buried Queen Shub-Ad, the report stated, following the prior death of the king, could not resist the temptation to break into the tomb of her husband and to rob it of its great treasure.

MISS PEARL LOGAN DIED HERE SUNDAY; BURIAL IN OAKWOOD

Miss Pearl Logan, aged 42 years, died Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock at her apartment, 312 West Fourth avenue, and the funeral was held Monday afternoon from the residence of E. C. Sears, 716 South Fifteenth street, a nephew of deceased, with interment in Oakwood cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. David Shepperson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Miss Logan had made her home in Corsicana for the past twenty-five years or more, a great part of which time she has been conducting a most successful millinery business. By her quiet manner and courteous treatment of all with whom she came in contact she had endeared herself to a large circle of friends who are sincerely grieved at her untimely passing. She was born near Tyler and came to Corsicana when a young woman to enter her chosen business field.

She is survived by two brothers, T. L. Logan, Mertens, and I. M. Logan of Selma, and five sisters, Mrs. Emma Ferguson of Corsicana; Mrs. Beula Johnson, Frost; Mrs. Minnie Bennett, Mertens; Mrs. R. B. Bryant, Oklahoma; Mrs. O. C. Grey, Longview, and other relatives.

Named Officers in Dallas Association

Former and present citizens of Corsicana were well represented in the names of officers announced for two Dallas associations according to the Sunday papers.

Among the officers of the Guardian Building and Loan Association the names of Charles G. Jester appears as vice president, and Howard R. Crumley is the secretary and treasurer.

Eugene Elkins was announced as secretary of the National Savings and Loan Association.

Pictures of all three were carried in connection with the articles.

MEMBER COOLIDGE'S CABINET PLEDGED TO CARRY POLICIES OUT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP).—Herbert Hoover is out in the open as a candidate for president, pledged to "carry forward the principles of the Republican party and the great objectives of President Coolidge's policies."

According to the wishes of a growing group of supporters, the Commerce Secretary has authorized them to enter his name as a candidate in the forthcoming Ohio primaries. He thus begins his campaign fully aware that it means a fight at the outset with the forces of Senator Willis of Ohio, another announced candidate, whose friends are determined to give him his home state's 51 delegates of the Kansas City convention.

The Senator, who recently accepted the challenge of Hoover's foreshadowed candidacy with the statement that it would be no "powder-puff" fight, said last night that he was ready for the contest and "perfectly confident of the result."

Hoover announced himself in a letter to Thad H. Brown, chairman of the Ohio Hoover for President committee, who conferred here Saturday with the cabinet member.

"I have received, through you and others," Hoover's letter said, "requests from very many republicans of Ohio that I permit my name to be entered in the presidential primaries of that state. I do so."

The secretary will retain his cabinet post and he indicated that he will not be able to make a personal campaign before the primaries.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 13. (AP).—Ohio Republicans, split into two factions by the presidential candidacies of Herbert Hoover and Senator Frank B. Willis today were marshalling their forces to win Ohio's 51 delegates to the National Convention for their favorites.

Announcements of Conferences to organize both Willis and Hoover campaigns followed the statement of the Secretary of Commerce at Washington last night that he will be a candidate for the republican presidential nomination and will allow his name to be presented to voters of Ohio in the primaries.

Fred W. Warner of Marion, chairman of the State Control committee which has endorsed Willis saw possible disruption of the party.

Warner said he had expected Hoover's entrance but that "it is regrettable." He declared the move "imperils" the state organization but that "Mr. Hoover will see a real battle before it is over." Warner said one purpose of the committee endorsement of Senator Willis was to "keep some semblance of a state party organization" and that the move of Hoover's friends in contesting for the Ohio delegation "will tend to disrupt the organization's work."

Colonel Carmi A. Thompson of Cleveland, Willis' campaign manager was to confer with friends here today on plans for the coming fight for delegates.

Hoover Will Fish In Florida Waters

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Secretary Hoover today sought a temporary refuge from the storm of political discussion brought on by his announcement of his presidential candidacy, and prepared to leave Washington on a fishing trip in Florida.

He asked the Bureau of Fisheries to recommend the spot on the Florida coast where an amateur fisherman could best hope for a catch, and declared that he would go there and remain at least a week.

It was indicated today that in spite of his announcement, Mr. Hoover intends to refrain as much as possible from political discussions. For several years past he has indulged himself during February with a week's vacation in Florida. He will be accompanied by one or two personal friends.

The Hoover announcement brought a statement today from Senator Edwards, Democrat, New Jersey, in which he predicted a Republican party split in Ohio and a consequent Democratic victory there next fall.

"Let the Houston convention nominate Governor Smith," Senator Edwards said, "and Ohio will be found in the Democratic column because no matter how the Willis-Hoover primary fight terminates, Willis will not be the Republican nominee."

MOTHER OF FIVE CHILDREN BURIED MONDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Mamie White, aged 38 years, wife of Everett White, 1001 North Twentieth street, died at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and the funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Sutherland Undertaking Parlors with interment in Oakwood cemetery.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. Howard Williams, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Surviving are her husband and five small children.

Pallbearers were L. F. Flynn, A. E. Foster, E. Watson, Leon Clark, Clarence Mann and Hal Tyner.

HICKMAN SENTENCE POSTPONED RESULT NEW TRIAL EFFORT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The sentencing of William Edward Hickman for the murder of Marian Parker, today was postponed to Tuesday by Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco, at which time arguments will be heard on the motion for a new trial filed today by counsel for "The Fox."

Nearly a score of allegations of trial efforts and deprivations of defense counsel, in his motion for a new trial.

He alleged there were "errors of law" in his client's sanity trial; that the verdict was contrary to the evidence; that the Court erred in granting the plaintiff the right to issue jury challenges after it (The State) had passed the jury; that the defendant had been legally deprived of his right to a jury trial for murder, and that in violation of the Constitution of the United States he had been compelled to be a witness against himself. Attorneys interpreted the last claim to refer to the use of the murderer's confession as trial evidence.

Walsh, reading his motion for a new trial, asserted as further ground that the verdict was contrary to the evidence; that the Court erred in instructing the jury, and that the jury received evidence out of court.

The defense attorney also asserted that new evidence had been discovered which was material and admissable and which could not, with reasonable diligence, have been discovered previously.

Hickman Jaunty.

Hickman, who had entered the court room with jaunty step and smiling, was called to his feet by the court to hear his sentence imposed. As Judge Trabucco apparently reached the point in his relation of the crime, trial and conviction at whch he was to sentence the kidnapper and killer, he paused to first ask if there was any reason the sentence should not be imposed.

The prisoner stood erect, with shoulders squared and looking directly ahead. Once, as the Judge's powerful voice informed him of the crime for which he stood convicted under the law, Hickman's shoulders jerked violently.

After walsh had read the grounds for his new trial motion, he informed the Court that all these would be entered in affidavit form.

The court then ruled that the sentencing would be delayed to Tuesday morning when arguments on the motion first would be heard. If the new trial then is denied the sentencing is expected to follow, after which notice of an appeal to the California Supreme Court would be filed, Walsh has stated.

Hickman Confesses To Another Crime

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—(AP).—A contemplated attack upon the law which he previously had embraced in his unsuccessful insanity defense, today threatened to delay the sentencing of William Edward Hickman for the kidnapping and killing of Marian Parker.

A motion for a new trial which Hickman's attorneys declared they intended to present at the youth's appearance in court today for sentence raised the expectation that the imposing of the penalty would be delayed until next week.

Unless Judge J. J. Trabucco departs from the course he previously mapped out for prosecution and defense attorneys, he will name next Tuesday as the time for argument of the motion for a new trial and if at that time he overrules the defense motion, he will pronounce sentence.

Law Unconstitutional.

Jerome Walsh, chief counsel, said in the argument for the new trial, he would contend that the law under which Hickman was tried on his insanity plea was unconstitutional. In addition, he said, he would charge error on the part of the judge in permitting the State to change the order in which it used its peremptory challenges and also error in the manner of alloting final arguments and in the instructing of the jury. He admitted that he held little hope that the motion would be granted, but if his pleas is denied, the way is left open for an appeal to the State Supreme Court.

On the eve of the day formally set for his sentence, Hickman told his attorneys of a hitherto unconfessed crime. As quoted by his counsel, Hickman declared that two months before he and 16-year old Welby Hunt came to California and staged the holdup, which resulted in the shooting and death of C. Ivy Thoms, druggist, they attempted a Kansas City robbery in which they engaged in a gun battle with a night watchman.

Gun Battle With Watchman.

Trial of the two for the Thoms murder, which occurred on Christmas Day, 1926, has been set for Feb. 15. Attorneys believe that for Hickman at least it probably will be delayed until after final disposition of the Marian Parker case.

In his last tale of crime, Hickman said he and Hunt planned the robbery of the C. J. Schmelzer store in Kansas City. Hickman entered the store, hid on a high shelf and after the store closed let Hunt in through a window.

"Watchman came along and threw a light on us," he told his attorneys. "I fired at him as he fired in our direction. He fell to the floor to escape being killed by me. We got out through the window and ran away."

Officials, who questioned Hunt on the story, said he admitted he was with Hickman on the night named but he refused to say who fired the shots in the gun battle.

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR REVIVAL SOON FIRST METHODIST

At the morning church hour of the First Methodist church, Rev. F. P. Culver stressed the importance of the coming revival that will open in the First Methodist church Sunday morning with Rev. Will Hogg, Methodist evangelist, doing the preaching. There will be a choir leader and one other member of the party. In getting ready for the revival, J. L. Halbert, chairman of the evangelistic committee, and who will have direction of the revival, has named his workers.

These names were read from the pulpit Sunday by Rev. Mr. Culver and are as follows:

Personal Workers—Claude Albritton, chairman.

Ushers and Collectors—J. N. Royall, chairman; S. J. Jackson, and Fred Upchurch.

Publicity—Boyce Martin, Charlton Gunter and R. A. Caldwell.

Entertainment Committee—C. T. Banister, chairman; Mrs. Geo. T. Jester, Mrs. Ed S. McGee.

Finance Committee—C. L. Jester, chairman; R. J. Jackson, H. R. Stroube, Clyde Stroud and Dr. O. L. Smith.

Music Committee—E. E. Babers, Mrs. Harry Williams and Mrs. Homer Pace.

Men's Prayer Meeting—Byron Harwell, Frank Haslam and H. F. Marr.

Women's Prayer Meeting—Mrs. W. L. Holman, Mrs. A. W. Rogers and Mrs. A. E. Haslam.

Seating Committee— A. L. Thompson and W. M. Huggins.

School Meetings—Prof. W. H. Norwood.

Downtown Meetings—J. T. Newsom, Clyde Foster and Gene Allen.

Rev. Mr. Culver made a plea with those present to give the meeting their time, attention and prayers during the three weeks that the revival will last.

Other announcements made was the meeting of the board of stewards for Monday night at 7:30; a meeting of the board of stewards for Monday night. T. H. Benton is chairman of this committee and preparations are being made for the every member canvass next Sunday afternoon. The regular mid-week prayer service Wednesday night, at which time the last lesson in the mission study will be hed. Following the morning service a meeting of the finance committee was held with R. J. Jackson, chairman, presiding.

At the morning hour Rev. Mr. Culver preached from the theme of "The Mission of the Church," Edward Hearn, choir director, sang a solo, and the choir sang an anthem. At the night hour a missionary pageant was given under the direction of Miss Ann Culver.

The downpour of rain at the Sunday School and morning church hour cut the attendance greatly. The attendance in the Sunday school only numbering 240. In the Weiler Bible Class the attendance was 28.

In the adult department Boyce Martin presided in the absence of R. J. Jackson, superintendent of this department, and the address in this department was made by C. W. Taylor, local attorney.

In the Weiler Bible Class Beauford Jester taught the class. The condition of George Boyd was reported better and A. N. Justiss reported that flowers had been sent Mr. Boyd for the class.

ROCKEFELLER IS SURE TRICKERY NOT GOOD IN BUSINESS

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—(AP).—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., back from Washington where he testified in the Senate's Teapot Dome investigation, warned of "sharp" business practices in a talk over the radio. He did not mention the oil industry.

Mr. Rockefeller, whose talk was broadcast by Station WJZ, listed integrity, obedience to law, clean living and loyalty as the four fundamental qualities underlying character.

"Is there any one of them that can be omitted or ignored without hazarding continuing business success?" he asked. "It is true that money is often made by trickery and sharp practice, but successful business is not established on a foundation so shifting.

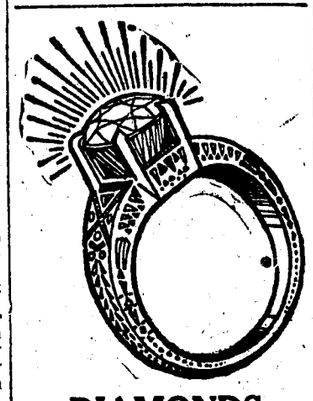

"Regretfululy must we admit," he said, "that instances are not lacking of corporations and individuals who set themselves up as superior to law. But when condemned as they are sure to be in the court of public opinion, even the most worldly-minded is bound to ask himself 'does it pay?' and to admit that no business can be permanently successful which is not law abiding."

He touched on violation of the customs laws by the rich and disregard of the 18th amendment by those who felt it an infringement of their personal liberty. "Law is law," he continued, "whether it affects personal liberty, social well being or business. So long as it remains the law of the land it should be obeyed. The alternate is anarchy."

TWO FIRES OVER WEEK END DAMAGE HOME AND STORE

Two fires did about $750 estimated damage to residences in Corsicana over the week-end. County Roads Are Reported Heavy

Roads over the county leading out from Corsicana were extremely heavy Monday, following the heavy rain Sunday. Traffic was getting through to Dallas with considerable difficulty by using chains.

Some light traffic came over the Dawson road early Monday morning but the road was reported almost impassable after noon. The road to Blooming Grove was also in bad condition.

Other roads were reported heavy but passable when chains were used.

Mrs. Farley McCarver was able to be moved home from the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic after an operation several days ago.

the south, reported a light snow.

Western Kansas Snow Covered.

..TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 13. (AP).—From one to three inches of snow covered Western Kansas today, S. D. Flora, meteorologist, said reports to the weather bureau indicated.

Fair weather in western Kansas and snow in the eastern portion, with slightly lower temperatures in eastern and southern sections, was forecast for tonight to be folowed by fair weather and rising temperatures Tuesday.

Snow Replaces Rain.

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 13. (AP).—Snow replaced Sunday's rain in northern Oklahoma and northwestern Texas Monday morning and conditions indicated that a norther was enroute for Wichita Falls.

Rain here since 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon totalled .99 inch. At 8 a. m. Monday the mercury stood at 44 degrees with a light west wind and cloudy skies.

The Fort Worth and Denver Railroad reported that light snow was faling Monday morning from Texline to Memphis with a heavier fal reported between Amarillo and Clarendon. At 5 a. m. temperatures were Texline 30, Amarillo 38, and Childress 42.

Snow Falls at Pampa.

PAMPA, Feb. 13. (AP). — A light snow from an overcast sky fell today, folowing Sunday's rain and mist to increase the quarter of an inch precipitation already recorded.

Following a four-month drought, the moisture will benefit materially the wheat crops.

Cold Hits Lubbock.

Lubbock, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Three hours after cotton men here had been informed of a heavy snow in Amarillo and over the North Panhandle, the tail end of the Rocky Mountain blizzard lashed across the South Plains, following Sunday's general half-inch rain, with a biting wind and sleet which soon turned to snow.

The mercury dropped to 40 at noon, but indications were that the fall would cease early in the afternoon. Reports from over the South Plains said the flakes were melting as rapidly as they reached the ground, promising more needed moisture for one of the heaviest wheat plants in history.

Snow Heavy at Amarillo.

AMARILLO, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Amarillo and this section of the Panhandle were hit by a heavy snow storm early today. Mild temperatures prevailed, however, and wheat farmers welcomed the wet snow.

Today's precipitation followed from one to two inches of rain and snow which fell over the south and east portions of the Panhandle yesterday.

Some Improvement In Farm Conditions

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Some improvement in agriculture is expected for 1928 if farmers avoid expansion of production and continue their efforts to balance production and continue their efforts to balance production with demand, says a bulletin received here Monday by H. WHAT? One and one-half per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemption and credits. Three per cent normal tax on the next $4,000. Five per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surtax on net income in excess of $10,000.

No. 4.

A taxpayer, though unmarried, who supports in his home one or more relatives over whom he exercises family control, is the head of a family and entitled to the same exemption allowed a married person, $3,500. Also he may claim a credit of $400 for each dependent. The definition of a dependent who is "mentally or physically defective" includes not only cripples and those mentally defective but persons in ill health and the aged.

For example, a widower who supports in his home an aged mother and daughter 7 years old is entitled to an exemption of $3,500 as the head of a family, plus a credit of $400 for each dependent, a total of $4,300. The $400 credit, however, does not apply to the wife or husband of a taxpayer though one may be totally dependent upon the other.

Representatives Of Dixieland Give Praise to Lincoln

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Tribute of the land of Dixie to Abraham Lincoln was given in the Senate today by Senator Robinson, Arkansas, Democratic party leader.

"As a representative in this body of what has come to be know as the New South I bow my head today in reverence," he said. "I cut a wild rose blooming in the Garden of Dixie and lay it on the tomb of the great, humble, awkward, immortal Lincoln whose courage and charity excels that which has been exemplified by the leadership of armed forces nowhere, at no time in the annals of human history."

Senator Robinson's expression that had Lincoln lived the breach between the North and South would have been healed much sooner, was concurred in by two other Democratic speakers, Bruce, of Maryland, and Heflin of Alabama.

Double Funeral to Mark Slain Couple

HOUSTON, Feb. 13.—(AP).—A double funeral was planned Monday for Thomas D. Martin, 59, and his wife Eleanor, 48.

Martin shot and killed his wife here Saturday and a moment later was himself slain by his son, Roy D. Martin, 30, at the son's home. The latter was charged with murder. He was released on nominal bond and expected to attend the services.

The elder Martin, it was brought out at the inquest, killed his wife with a pistol in a rage after she had left him. The son, the hearing showed, shot his father an instant later with a shotgun.

ASSISTANT CHIEF TEXAS CITY POLICE SLAIN BY BANDITS

TEXAS CITY, Feb. 13.—(AP).—O. E. Evans, assistant chief of police, was shot and killed by bandits at the rear entrance of a drug store here early today.

His body was found some time later by officers who had been searching for the robbers after they had attempted to enter a dry goods store. A night watchman had driven two men away from the establishment earlier in the night. He spread the alarm. Evans was notified and come from his home to join in the search for the men. Apparently he had conducted an independent investigation and when his car was found at the city hall, officers began looking for him. His body was found at the entrance to the drug store with a bullet through his heart.

No trace of the bandits had been found.

State Democratic Committee Called To Meet Feb. 28

HOUSTON, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Notices calling for a meeting of the state Democratic executive committee for 10 a. m. February 28 at the Stephen F. Austin hotel in Austin, were mailed out Monday by Richard Fleming of Houston, secretary of the committee.

Purpose of the gathering, the call says, is to select a meeting place for the state convention at which delegates to the National Convention here will be chosen.

The state convention will be held May 22. Invitations for the meeting, have been received from Amarillo, Brownsville, Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Austin.

The committee at its Austin meeting also will fill vacancies in the Second, Thirteenth and Twenty-first districts caused by resignations.

Sandino Escapes Marine Patrols

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Advices available in Nicaragua today indicate that a report received in the United States that Augustino Sandino, Nicaraguan rebel leader, is fleeing to Honduras, is unfounded.

Sandino, who has been operating in Nueva Segovia, a northern department of Nncaragua, for the past six months, two weeks ago slipped southeast from his former stronghold of El Chipote to San Rafael Del Norte. He remained there a few days and appeared at several coffee plantations in the vicinity of the city of Matagalpa.

The exact whereabouts of the rebel leader are not known, but it is felt here he probably is from 12 to 15 miles northwest of Matagalpa in a mountainous region. Military authorities believe that as long as he has the almost inaccessible region to his rear where he can retreat swiftly, it will be most difficult to capture him unless by surprise.

The rainy season is approaching making transportation of troops and supplies almost impossible and consequently the clearing up of the northern districts of the Sandino bands is expected to be a slow procedure.

Eudurance Flight Again Postponed

FORT WORTH, Feb. 13.—(AP).—Prevented from taking off by rain and a muddy runway yesterday and this morning, Al. Henley and J. Hart, Oklahoma aviators, announced today that they will start the endurance flight tomorrow from the municipal airport here.

The plane in which they hope to set a new world's record for continuous flying was in perfect condition, but the fliers felt that the runway had not dried sufficiently to take a chance of going up.

Deadlock Monday Faced Pan-American Conference On Two Important Points

HAVANA, Feb. 13.—(AP).—The storm over the question of the inclusion of clauses in the convention which would permit an investigation by the Pan-American Union of alleged excessive tariffs in commerce between the American republics with full force today at the meeting of the committee on Pan-American Union affairs.

Honorio Pueyrredon, head of the Argentine delegation, in a short speech repeated emphatically that he would not sign the convention unless the preamble contained the required economic clauses.

Charles Evans Hughes, head of the American delegation, delivered a long speech in which he pointed out that all the countries were opposed to Dr. Pueyrredon because what he insisted upon would affect the vital sovereign rights of the nations. He argued furthermore that the injection economics into the Pan-American Union would destroy it and thus prevent it from doing the good which it now was accomplishing.

HAVANA, Feb. 13.—(AP).—The Pan-American Conference was faced with prospects of a deadlock on two questions—tariff and intervention.

Apparent conflict developed between advices from Buenos Aires that the Argentine government was understood to have instructed Dr. Honorio Pueyrredon, head of the Argentine delegation, not to insist on the inclusion of an economic clause in the proposed Pan-American Union convention and the repeated announcement of Dr. Pueyrredon that he would sign no convention that did not embody this clause. This lent special interest to a meeting of the committee on the Pan-American Union summoned for today.

The convention to regulate the future activities on the Union was on its agenda. Dr. Pueyrredon wished to have the clause under dispute inserted in the preamble. At the last meeting of the committee was agreed to consider first the actual articles of the treaty so as to allow time for second thoughts and consultation with home governments.

Before the committee went into session today, however, Chairman Enrique Olaya of Colombia predicted that consideration of the articles would be completed during the session and actual debate on the preamble begun.

The preamble, Dr. Pueyrredon insists, should declare that Pan-Americanism rests largely upon economic union among the countries of this hemisphere and therefore that all artificial or excessive barriers to the free flow of commerce should be abolished. All other members of the sub-committee which discussed the union convention unanimously opposed these views. They maintained they affected the sovereign rights of states.

This afternoon the sub-committee on public international law also was scheduled to meet to combine all views regarding the question of intervention by one state in the internal affairs of another.

Both Dr. Pueyrredon and Dr. Gustavo Guerrero of Salvador announced that in this meeting, which will be held behind closed doors, they would continue to uphold the complete and unconditional prohibition of intervention which was recommended in the Rio Janeiro jurists' conference.

Infected Rabbits And Ducks Stolen

PARIS, Feb. 13.—(AP).—All the forces the perfecture of police could spare were scouring Paris today for twelve rabbits and three ducks stolen from a garden on the Boulevard Brune.

The rabbits and ducks belonged to Dr. Charles Richet, eminent pathologist, and had been infected with grave diseases as an experiment a few days ago.

It was feared that the thieves might try to market the dangerous animals and fowl as meat.

SUCCESSFUL MEET CLOSED AT Y.M.C.A. SATURDAY NIGHT

CORSICANA DOWNED STATE HOME AND PROVIDENCE BEAT RURAL SHADE

The Corsicana Tigers won the championship of the Navarro County University of Texas Interscholastic League Saturday night by defeating the Providence cagers, 37-17, on the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. court. Corsicana had previously defeated the State Home 50-2 for the class A title and the Providence cagers had eliminated the other fourteen class B teams for the title and the right to meet the Tigers. The Providence team won the class B title Saturday afternoon by downing the strong Rural Shade aggregation 21-14.

In the consolation battle in the second class B title went to Rural the Dawson cagers rallied in the second half of the game to eke out a 20-19 win over the Purdon club.

The county championship trophy was presented to Corsicana; class B title was awarded to Providence; second class B title went to Rural Shade and the third class B award was given to the Dawson quint. The presentations were made by Boyce Martin of the Daily Sun, chairman of the physical education committee of the Corsicana Y. M. C. A.

Director-General Butler of the county Interscholastic League spoke briefly on the meet, thanking all those who had participated in the tournament, including the officials and the press.

The tournament began Friday afternoon with the drawing at 2 o'clock and 3 o'clock, the first round of competition started.

Attendance at the games was good and a large crowd was on hand Saturday night for the final games. The Tiger Teasers, burlesque orchestra, was on hand in gala attire under the direction of Morey Millerman. Arthur Wareing stuntted his stuff in a specially stunt.

Both Corsicana and Providence schools were cheered by their rooting sections.

The tournament was refereed by Wm. J. Smith and O. F. Allen, both of Corsicana, in the class B division while Ingold of Dallas officiated in the class A and final games.

The Kerens Bobcats, other class A team of the county, did not enter the tournament. The State Home and Corsicana schools were the only class A teams.

The class B entries were Purdon, McCord, Barry, Blooming Grove, I. O. O. F. Home (Corsicana), Providence, Rice, Rural Shade, Currie, Pursley, Bryan, Montfort, Dawson, Emhouse and Frost.

Scorers of the tournament were Lear, Pollard, Park Allen and Harold Green.

The Providence team showed more strength than was thought would be flashed in the class B division and breezed along to the title. In the first round of competition the Providence team eliminated the strong Rice quintet, one of the favorites for the title, and in the finals of the class B division, defeated the Rural Shade five, winners of the recent class B tournament sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. tournament, remarked at the end of the tournament they would win in the interscholastic League meet, and from all reports of the other teams and coaches, the Providence club was clearly the class of the field.

The Corsicana Tigers will represent Navarro county in the district meet with the winners of Hill, Ellis, Johnson and Bosque counties in Fort Worth, Feb. 24-25. This week-end the Tigers will participate in the A. A. U. meet in Waco, which will give them extra time on the large court and should be of unusual benefit to the Tigers in their quest of additional honors in the State race of the University of Texas Interscholastic League.

TIGER-PROVIDENCE.

Captain Edwin Price led the Tiger scorers in the championship struggle with 16 points, Jones, forward, was second with 11. Jeffries of Providence led his team with 6 points.

Corsicana started amassing a lead in the second period which could not be matched by the tired Providence team which had been playing for two days.

PECAN EXPERT HAS ADVISED GROWERS IN COUNTY ON PROBLEMS

F. J. Willman, State Department of Agriculture pecan expert, has been in Navarro county for the past several days visiting and inspecting groves of pecan trees in various parts of the county. He has gone over the trees and soil and made recommendations to the owners tending to increase the output and grade of the trees, and states that he has found much enthusiasm in the matter of pecan culture in Navarro county.

Mr. Willman states that Navarro county is among the best pecan producing counties of the State and that practically all the soil of this county is well suited to the growing of pecan trees. He states that the areas along Richland and Chambers creek and the uplands thereabouts are especially fine for pecan culture and says the native pecans are of a better grade than those found most anywhere in the State. Mr. Willman has been in this county on previous visits and is very enthusiastic over the possibilities of the pecan industry in this county.

He has made reports that have induced several owners of large pecan groves in this county to have their trees topworked and budded to the large, thin-shelled varities of pecans which bring a premium on the markets at home and abroad. Mr. Willman regards the future of Navarro county in the pecan industry as being extremely bright and says that in the not distant future that it will be one of the large incomes to land owners in this district.

During the past several years there have been many trees worked over by pecan experts and it is stated that at present several thousand trees are being topworked and budded in the county. The fact that Richland and Chambers creek and their tributaries, which are held as being excellent pecan growing territory, traverse the county from end to end in the southern and northern districts of of the county respectively, gives the entire county value as a pecan growing district.

Farmers Pleased With Recent Rains

MEXIA, Feb. 11. (Spl.).—Farmers of Limestone and Freestone counties are happy over the rain which fell early this week. The ground is now in good condition for planting spring grain and for the preparation of corn land for planting late this month and in March.

With good seasons it is believed a large amount of spring grain and corn will be planted, cutting the cotton acreage considerably, although there is no general movement to cut cotton acreage in the BeStone Empire.

HASSELL AND BLACK PAY DEATH PENALTY FOR THEIR CRIMES

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 10.—(AP).—Calmly accepting failure of last minute chances for commutation of the death sentence on the ground of possible insanity, George J. Hassell, 39, confessed slayer of 13 persons, was electrocuted at the State penitentiary here today. He was followed to the electric chair by Robert L. Benton, negro, convicted of killing B. E. Morgan, a white man at Crosbyton.

The double electrocution required less than 30 minutes. Hassell received the first shock at 12:29 a. m. He was pronounced dead in eight minutes. Benton entered the chair at 12:46 o'clock and was pronounced dead seven minutes later. Each received three shocks.

Asked if he wished to make a statement, Hassell said:

"I would like to announce to the world that I am prepared to meet my God. I have made my confession to Go dand man. Man does not understand it all, but God does."

Warden N. B. Speer acted as executioner. Twenty-five newspapermen and a few prison officials witnessed the executions.

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 10.—(AP).—In a prison ledger, written in red ink by Warden N. L. Speer, today rested the brief record of the electrocution of George J. Hassell, 39, white, and Robert Lee Benton, 30, negro, in the State penitentiary here early this morning.

"Executed in accordance with the mandate of the law, Feb. 10, 1928," it read.

Hassell was credited with nine murders in Texas, besides four in California. Benton, who also was known as Stanley, killed B. E. Morgan, a farmer, near Crosgyton.

Warden Speer said he understood both men were to be buried in the prison cemetery.

A giant of a man, Hassell scorned lethal weapons in putting to death his victims. With one exception, he either struck them down with a hammer, or strangled them to death. The exception was his step-son, for whose murder Hassell died in the chair. The step-son was killed by a shot in the back.

Stoical to Last.

Stoical to the last, Hessell went to his death at 12:29 a. m. with masked countenance. He was ready to meet his God, he told Warden Speer, and expressed the belief that while he had sinned, "God understands, while men do not." The negro died next and he showed no emotion.

Hassell's California crimes did not come to light until the bodies of his nine Texas victims had been found on a farm near Farwell, Texas.

In a confession he described the slaying at Whittier, Cal., of Mrs. Marie Vogel, proprietor of a rooming house at San Angelo, Texas, with whom Hassell had formed a partnership, her young son and two orphan children he and the woman had adopted. California authorities, at first skeptical, excavated the clay foundation of the house in which Hassell and the woman had lived, and found the boies of the four. In view of Hassells' Texas crimes, no attempt to extradite him to California was made.

Weds Brother's Widow.

Returning to Oklahoma and thence to Texas after the California murders, at the request of his brother's widow, whom he later married, "after consulting the Bible to see whether it was allright," Hassell's confessed predilection for whiskey and, acording to the Farwell court record, an affair with his neice soon brought him into trouble with his wife. According to an early "confession" introduced at his trial, Hassell's wife had reproached him for his intimacies with her daughter. This enraged him, the confession continued, and he slew the mother with a hammer, afterward strangling the seven children. The eldest son of the dead woman, away on a visit returned home a few days after the crime. He met his death from a shot gun which Hassell fired, according to his confession, while the youth was sitting with his back turned to the slayer at a table drinking from the same jug from which Hassell said he had drawn courage to put to death the mother and smaller children.

Broken Romance is Blamed by Killer

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 10. (AP).—George Hassell, confessed slayer of 13 persons, believed that a broken romance was responsible for the queer quirk in his make-up which led him to deeds of violence.

Convicted and sentenced to death in January for the murder of his wife and nine step-children, Hassell told the story of his life shortly afterward and drew charts which directed police to the bodies of a woman and two children whom he had killed and buried under a house in Whittier, Cal., several years ago. The bodies of the wife and nine step-children were found in a dugout on Hassel's farm near Farwell, Texas.

When he was 18 years old, Hassell said, he fell in love with a young woman in Buffalo Gap, Taylor county, Texas. He married her in December, 1909 and moved to Abilene, Texas. Next he moved to Fort Worth, where he was a night watchman, and then to a farm near Hobart, Okla. He sent his wife and their baby son to Winters, Texas, while he went on to Oklahoma.

"We promised to write every day when we parted," Hassell said. "I wrote, but a week passed before I heard from my wife. Then I received a letter. It stated she was through with me. That ruined my life."

"I joined the army and deserted to join the navy in California. But I longed to see my wife and baby while in the navy, so beat it back to Abilene. She still refused to have anything to do with me, so I went back to California and rejoined the army.

"Army authorities arrested me for desertion, and after I had served two years in the army prison, the old longing to see the wife and child came over me, and I planned to return to Taylor county. But my wife wouldn't answer my letters."

Time after time, Hassel said, he returned to Texas in the hope of seeing his wife and child, and once he married another woman because she had a boy that resembled his. Finally, he said he gave up, after his wife had driven him away from her home and the son had thrown rocks at him. He said he married five times after that, but loved only the first wife.

Wandering around the country, Hassell received word at New Orleans that his brother had died from the kick of a mule at Lawton, Okla. A sister requested him to go there to finish his brother's crop.

He went to Lawton, married his hister-in-law, and assumed the care of his brother's nine children. After a short time, they moved to Farwell, where the tragedy occured in December.

"I may be wrong up here," he said in answer to a question, tapping his forehead. "But I don't know why I killed. I simply can't say."

EAST CENTRAL AREA OF TEXAS SHOWING HEAVIER DECLINE

Showing more than twice the usual decline in the month of January over the preceding months, production of the East Central Texas area amounted to 746,800 barrels of pipeline oil, according to figures recently released on the sector.

A drop of more than 60,000 barrels was recorded in January, while December showed only a 26,000 barrel drop about the average. The low production was partly due to the prolonged spell of intensely cold weather at the beginning of the month, which weakened gas pressure and generally demoralized conditions in the fields.

Currie showed a gain in December but a large decline in January with a total of production of 18,300 for December, against 16,200 for January and 17,400 for November.

The Powell area continues to hold the production lead with a total of 373,000 barrels for January, a decrease of 26,000 barrels over December. The December decline was only about 3,000 barrels.

The latest fields in the area, Nigger Creek and Cedar Creek, in the Mexia sector, are reported producing about 800 barrels each day. Production from the Cherokee county fields amounts to about 80 barrels a day from the Humble Lizzie Smith No. 1 in Anderson county.

The production figures for December and January follow:

NAVARRO COUNTY CLUB WOMEN WILL STRESS FURNITURE

Living room improvement is to be the outstanding project for Navarro County Club women this year.

Many entered the State Living room improvement contest.

Refinishing of old furniture is to be the first work taken up by the women.

Does your furniture express refinement and beauty?

It is quite simple to transform that odd chair, table or desk into a delightfully new piece of furniture—one that will become a part of your friendly groups of furnishings.

Following rules should be observed:

Process where the natural beauty of the wood is brought out—suitable for such woods as walnut, mahogany and others having good grain and color. Where a wood is not entirely pleasing in color it may be stained as desired (a walnut stain is often quite satisfactory on some of the cheaper woods) and finished otherwise as follows:

1. Clean Wood thoroughly and have it dry.

2. Remove varnish.—Commercial varnish remover is less apt to injure the wood and it is safer to use where one has excellent wood. Work with the grain of the wood.

3. Clean.— A little gasoline or benzine may be used for cleaning, but when it is used be sure to work in the open air and do not rub hard, since gasoline is highly inflammable.

4. Sandpaper until smooth. — Use the finest sandpaper that can be secured. Work with the grain of the wood.

5. Apply varnish.—Use a good quality of hard, clean, floor varnish. A hard, smooth surface is needed and floor varnish will give a durable finish. Be sure that varnish is mixed well. Put on thin with grain of wood. Do not have brush too full. (About one-half full is better.) Take care not to leave strokes. Dry at least 24 hours.

6. Rub with 00 steel wool and linseed oil until smooth.—This will prevent gloss. Clean well with a dry cloth that will absorb oil.

7. Apply second coat of varnish. —Dry at least two days. Repeat rubbing with steel wool and linseed oil. Clean well.

8. Apply third coat of varnish.— Dry at least two days. Repeat rubbing with steel wool and linseed oil. Clean well.

9. Apply wax when entirely clean and smooth.—Liquid or paste may be used Put on thin with a cloth. Allow it to stand 15 or 20 minutes. Rub with a flannel cloth with the grain until wood has a velvety finish. Wax protects the wood. Often linseed oil alone is used. It gives a dull finish but it does not serve as a protection, the dust is caught because of the oily surface and in time the oil evaporates, and then the wood is easily water stained.

Process for Painting Wood.

1. Remove old paint.—The commercial paint and varnish remover is good where paint is thin and not too old. Lye solution is more effective for heavy paint. It is sometimes necessary to use a number of applications. In very stubborn cases a lye paste may be used. Apply lye solution using a stick with a cloth tied on it, forming a mop. Let stand until soft. Remove with steel scraper. Remove surplus lye with cloth or brush. When clean, use a vinegar solution to neutralize and stop any action of lye on wood. (1-2 cup vinegar to 1 gal. water.) Wipe with clean wet cloth.

2. Apply first coat of flat paint. —It is better to have flat paint the same color as the finishing coat. If article is small, tube oil paint is best to use for coloring. If it is a large article a small can of colored paint may be used. Dry 24 hours. Rub with sandpaper (medium size) until smooth.

3. Apply second coat of flat paint.—Dry 24 hours. If paint is sticky, there is too much linseed oil—use a little turpentine which acts as a dryer. Rub with sandpaper until smooth.

4. Apply coat of good oil paint or enamel—It is bette rfor an amateur to use a good oil paint rather than enamel. Enamel is an expensive finish. The inexperienced are apt to put it on too thick and not allow it to dry sufficiently. It blisters and chips off unless it is put on carefully. Each coat should dry thoroughly, and it should be rubbed down between each application. A good oil paint gives the same general effect, it can be applied with less work and with better results as a rule. The cost is considerably less. Good paint is more economical, for an inferior grade is always expensive in the end. Stir paint well from the bottom of the can with a stick. Test on a piece of wood, if too thick, thin with a little turpentine. Several coats of thin paint are better than one which is too thick. Test on a piece of wood for color. If color is too intense add a little black. To make it lighter add white. Be sure to mix paint well. Dry two or three days and rub smooth with sand paper.

5. Apply second coat of oil paint or enamel.

Lye Solution for Removing Varnish or Paint.

To one gallon of boiling water, add one can of lye. Fill bucket one-half full of the water, then add lye, by shaking it into water gradually to prevent boiling over.

Procedure: With an old broom or dish mop, apply the solution. It may be necessary to use a small stiff brush in the crevices. (Be careful of the hands). Remove finish from a small portion at a time and work quickly to keep lye from eating into the wood. Rinse thoroughly with clear, cold water, then rinse with vinegar to neutralize the action of the lye. (If this is not done the lye will eat into the wood in time, and cause bubbles under the finish). Dry out of doors for at least 3 days then smooth down the wood with 00 sand paper as the lye will leave the wood rough.

May be found useful in more stubborn cases.

4 tb. corn starch, 1 qt. water. Mix and cook to the consistency of a thick paste. 2 tb. concentrated lye. 1-2 cup cold water. Dissolve the lye in cold water and add to the starch paste.

To Clean Brushes.

For varnish—turpentine.

For paint—turpentine, or gasoline.

After well cleaned out, wash with warm water and soap. Rinse well, dry, shape. put on flat surface.

EVIDENCE OF RACE THAT LIVED MANY AGES AGO FOUND

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP).—Evidences of a race that lived in Egypt when the Sahara desert was a dense jungle, traversed by many streams, possibly 100,000 years ago, were obtained by a university of Chicago Egyptology expedition, its first report to the institutions hows.

In the terraces of the Nile they traced the advancement of the peoples that lived in that region.

Weapons and implements they unearthed are similar to those discovered in Europe and attributed to the Chalean age.

The aim of the expedition was to determine if there were traces of man pre-dating those found in Europe, commonly regarded as the cradle of mankind. The explorers feel there is some justification in a belief that man oritheir discoveries as reasons for ginated in Africa, and advance that belief.

Kerens Methodists Will Build Church

KERENS, Feb. 10. (Spl.).—The officials of the Methodist church held an important and enthusiastic meeting Tuesday night. As a result of the encouraging reports made by committees soliciting funds for the erection of the new church, the Board decided to begin the immediate collection of funds, and a secretary, treasurer and depositary of the church building fund were elected. They are: E. H. Gray, secretary; E. M. Westbrooks, treasurer, and The First State Bank, depository.

Representatives of the church will shortly visit other churches with the view of selecting the most advantageous building plans. A Church Conference will be held in connection with Sunday morning's preaching service, in which Conference every member of the church has the right and is expected to take part in the disucssion of the new hurch project and other church affairs.

Corsicana Marine Goes to Nicaragua

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. (Sp.)—Some of the interesting events taking place in Nicaragua, are likely to be witnessed by John A. Clayton, of Corsicana, Texas. who is with the 50th Company of the newly formed 11th Regiment of Marines recently assigned to duty in the Central American republic. His name appears on the official roster of the regiment.

Prior to going abroad the local boy was stationed at San Diego, Calif., from which place a detachment of marines left for Nicaragua. It is not known just where he will be located. as the marines are scattered throughout the republic, serving at many outposts and performing an endless variety of duties while they help to restore peace to the country.

Clayton lived at the home of his sister, Mrs. Grace Norwood, in Corsicana, before he joined the Marine Corps at San Francisco, Calif., last August. In recent weeks he has been stationed on the West Coast.

QUESTION MARK IS WAFTED TOWARD MAN IN THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(AP). Political fires are burning brightly on Capitol Hill and in the eddies of the senatorial debate fanning them, a large and smoky question mark has been wafted to the White House, where President Coolidge silently watches.

Most of the fire has come from the LaFollette anti-third term resolution, with Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, throwing on timber with his renewed prediction that the next Republican convention might nominate President Coolidge. Other stokers fed the flames in the Senate yesterday and in their glare was pictured the names of both outspoken and silent candidates and an issues that is not permitted to rest—prohibition.

The inflammable prohibition question was raised by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who as its defender is deeply curious concerning the views of presidential candidates. He invited Secretary Hoover and Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, to state publicly how they stand on "this important issue." Recently Borah quizzed Senator Curtis of Kansas, another Republican candidate, and the latter replied that he was for strict law enforcement.

Indianan Enters Field.

Just before the Senate got well started on the LaFollette resolution with debate sufficient to postpone to ra second time a vote on it, Senator Watson of Indiana announced himself as a Republican candidate for president. At the same time the Indiana delegation in Congress, Senator Arthur Robinson and the House members, announced their support of Watson. He is the third Senator to announce his candidacy and the ninth to be voluntarily or otherwise entered in the field.

Another Republican political development was the flat declaration of Chairman William M. Butler of the national committee that reports that the June convention might be taken away from Kansas City were not true. After he met with a part of the committee handling arrangements for the convention he said the full committee's earlier decision giving the meeting to Kansas City was final and that "there never has been any thought of taking it away from Kansas City."

Fess Starts Questions.

Senator Fess' prediction that the Republicans might finally turn to Calvin Coolidge brought a rapid fire cross examination from Democrats and at last he said he had "gotten it direct" that the President "means what he says and wants to get out of office."

He related also the details of his visit to the White House a few months ago, and how he had given newspaper men the impression that the president had rebuked him for continuing to express his opinion that Mr. Coolidge would be drafted for another term.

He said he had not been rebuked but had said so to the newspapermen to give emphasis to his statement that he was speaking for himself and not for the President. Democratic senators joshed him about that and finally Heflin of Alabama suggested that so far as Mr. Coolidge is concerned the door still is open.

"This is the Democratic interpretation," Fess retorted. "That party is very fearful the door is open. Not only the Democratic senators but the New York Times and other Democratic papers favoring the election of Governor Smith."

Coolidge Position Discussed.

The Ohio Senator declared that despite the President's summer announcement that he did not choose to run, he could accept the action of the convention without dishonor. Senator Bruce, Democrat, Maryland, opposed that view and said the President would be acting in "very bad faith" if he accepted the nomination after "enticing" other candidates into the race.

When Fess repeated that Democrats were fearful that Mr. Coolidge would run again, Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, a possible candidate himself, rejoined that "the senator is hugging to his breast one of the delusions he frequently embraces."

Reed said he believed Fess was arguing for Coolidge's renomination and added:

"I protest in the name of Senator Willis from Ohio; the Republican leader, Mr. Curtis; the English statesman, Herbert Hoover; the great dirt farmer, Mr. Lowden, and in the name of the great Republican party that with all its faults it is not absolutely forced to nominate one man."

Dawson Man is Champion Raiser Of Market Hogs

DAWSON, Feb. 10.—(Sp.).—J. B. Rogers, owner of a Poland China farm near here, has laid claim to raising one of the largest hogs in Central Texas.

According to Rogers, the hog weighed 890 pounds on foot. When killed, the hog produced 53 gallons of lard which he sold at $1.40 per gallon. Sold $31.20 worth of sausage after using 20 pounds, kept the hams and still got $105.40 out of the hog.

Blooming Grove Officer Sentenced

DALLAS, Feb. 11.—(AP).—L. W. Thrash, constable of Blooming Grove, Texas, was found guilty of aggravated assault by a jury in the Dallas Criminal Court today and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. The jury deliberated all night. Thrash was alleged to have attacked and beaten Ben Tobolowsky, a merchant here. Testifying in his own defense Thrash said he was attempting to collect an account when he himself was attacked.

EXPLOSION LATE FRIDAY PARTIALLY WRECKED BIG PLANT

EVERETT, Mass., Feb. 11.—(AP)—The death of two men at the Massachusetts general hospital in Boston today brought to twelve the total of known dead as a result of the explosion and fire at the Beacon Oil Company's plant here yesterday. The two were Azemiah Budford of Wakefield and Charles Poirier of Everett.

Six men were still listed as missing and a number of those injured were in a critical condition at hospitals.

EVERETT, Mass., Feb. 11.—(AP).—Ten men were known to be dead, at least a half dozen were missing and as many more were in a critical condition in hospitals today as the result of the partial destruction late yesterday of the distillation plant of the Beacon Oil Company here.

Eight of the dead identified were:

PETER DAVIS, Somerville.
GEORGE DOHERTR, Everett.
DONALD MACINTOSH, Everett
MICHAEL BURGESS, Charleston.
JOSEPH P. LANDRIGAN, Everett.
JOHN COLLINS, Cambridge.
MICHAEL GILLIGAN, Malden.
PETER RAUSEO, Everett.

All of the dead, missing and seriously injured were employes of the oil company.

Throughout the night workers searched the smoking ruins for additional bodies while sobbing groups of relatives beseiged the main gates of the big plant in quest of information or clustered about the undertaking rooms where the dead were being identified.

President R. B. Kahle of the company declared that the explosion probably was caused by the failure of a low pressure still.

Property loss probably will not exceed $75,000.

To The Public

Developed through a period of more than forty years, our line has grown from a single product, to a comprehensive group of Paints, Varnishes and Wall Finishes covering practically every painting requirement.

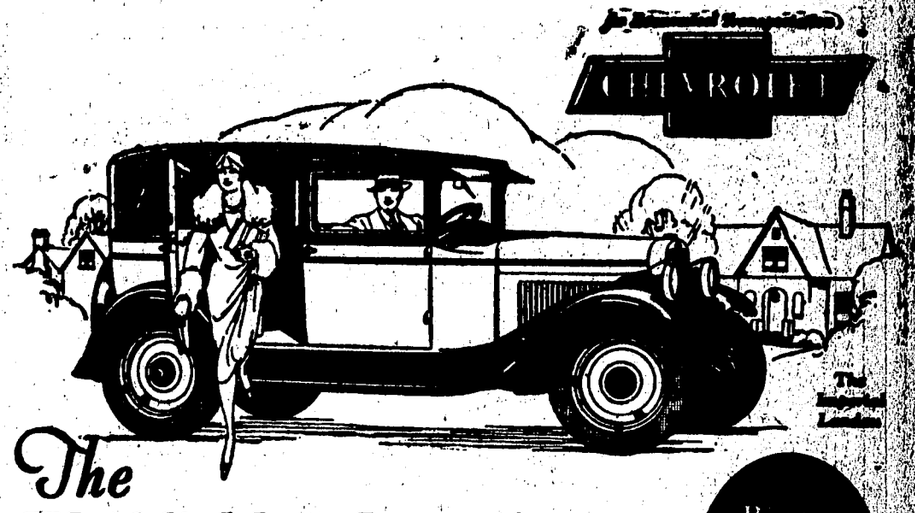

We have always held Quality as our standard and the trade may accept each product bearing our trade mark label, as the highest quality material we can produce. However, Quality, without knowledge of practical requirements of a paint material's use, will not produce the best results. A universal recognition of our line in the trade has been largely built upon the uniformly successful results achieved with Benjamin Moore & Co. goods in the hands of the decorator and layman. This, combined with the exceptional value, which the line offers, places our dealers in an advantageous competitive position in their local markets.

We have always strived to get the best dealers and mechanics in a city, and consider ourselves fortunate to have our agent in your city. They buy our products by carload and are in a position to make best prices for strictly first-class goods.

A. W. Levermann & Son

LARGE AMOUNT IS SPENT ON LAUNDRY IMPROVEMENTS HERE

CORSICANA STEAM LAUNDRY KEEPING PLANT STRICTLY MODERN

Trying to keep abreast of the latest ideas in laundries, more than $6,000 has been spent by the Corsicana Steam Laundry in the past few weeks for repairs, improvements, and new equipment according to E. D. McCarver, president of the Company. Included in the list of new equipment are several air-driven presses, and three new trucks.

With the present equipment, Mr. McCarver estimated that the plant is capable of handling at least twice as great a volume of business as they are receiving at the present time. The plant is complete within itself, with its own power system both steam and electrical, and equipment for handling everything from ladies' lingerie to feather pillows and comforts in the most sanitary and satisfactory way.

Among the departments seldom connected with laundries by the public is the curtain department where all kinds of draperies may be cleaned and put in good condition; the washing and cleaning of feather pillows; blankets and quilt work; and the cleaning of wash suits.

"There is a mistaken idea abroad about the way the laundry handles clothes," said Mr. McCarver as he conducted a Sun Reporter over the plant. "Many people think that a laundry boils clothes, but it does not. is scalds them but never boils them, and thus does not cause the colors to fade.

"We are going to make a definite effort this year to prove to the people of Corsicana beyond a doubt that the laundry can do their family washing more satisfactorily and more economically than any other agency. Our rates are much cheaper than the work can be done with any kind of labor by an individual, and our methods send the clothes back to the customer in a cleaner and more sanitary condition than the ordinary methods.

As a part of this campaign, a number of presses using compressed air for motive power have been installed to be used particularly for the family trade. These new machine will eliminate much of the tiring foot-work needed to work the older models, and have many new safety features which include the use of both hands to lower and raise them: eliminating all possibility of the operator being burned by the hot plates or being caught by the machine in operation.

It was necessary to remove a large section of the flooring to install the new machines and more than 180 square feet of concrete was needed to replace the floor.

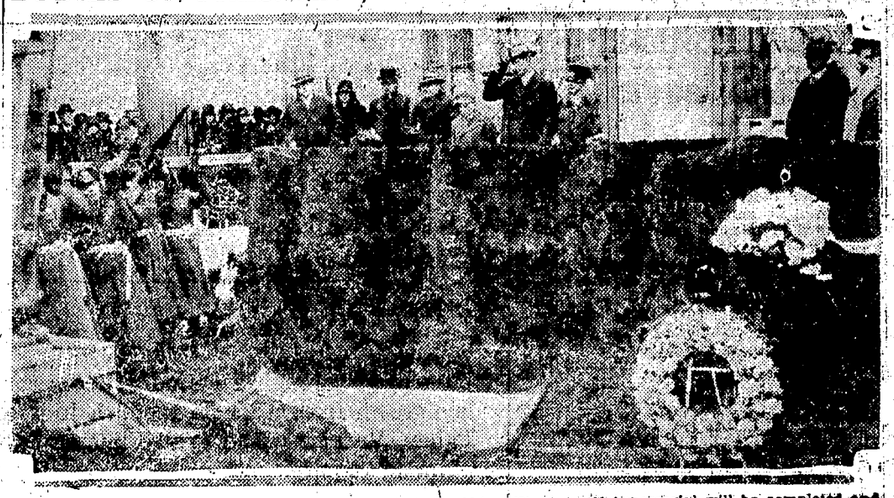

It was stated that the air-compressor used to operate the presses had been installed with the idea of future growth and that many years would pass before the capacity of the compressor was reached.

With the installation of three new delivery trucks, and the disposal of the older cars, the laundry now has seven trucks serving the city and the nearby oil fields. None of the trucks in service now are more than two years old.

MANY FAMILIES AIDED BY LOCAL CHARITIES BODY

UNEMPLOYMENT IS CAUSING HEAVY DRAIN ON FACILITIES UNITED CHARITIES

A large number of needy families and individuals were cared for by the United Charities during the month of January according to the report of Miss Augusta Helm, secretary of the organization at a recent meeting of the board of directors.

Miss Helm reported that unemployment was causing considerable distress in Corsicana and that a number of families are receiving aid where members of the group have been searching for work and have been unable to find it; several others were aided where the individual was employed but their income was insufficient during the past month.

A total of fiftysix families were cared for during the month, and a number of transients cared for, according to Miss Helm's report.

Groceries were supplied 13 families, wood to 6, milk to 3, furniture to one, stoves to 1 school supplies were furnished 16 children; clothing was supplied for 40 individuals.

The organization assisted a boy in securing a bicycle to obtain employment, supplied some cow-feed for one family, fixed a roof, paid the rent for 2, cared for 12 transients, and aided in 14 cases of illness. Three of the cases brought to the attention of the organization were caused by desertion.

Five families were reported suffering of unemployment. Eight children were clothed so that they might attend school, and three families were aided where there had been a death in the family. One tubercular case was assisted, two old people were helped, and five cases were brought to the attention of and aided by the Red Cross.

Cases were looked after and reports made for organizations in Fort Worth, Waxahachie, San Antonio and Houston.
